FRANK B. RANSON

One of Nature's Noblemen To Be Laid To His Last Sleep In The Mayville Cemetery This Afternoon.

The remains of Mr. Frank B. Ranson, a native and former prominent business man of this city, who died at Indianapolis, will arrive here this afternoon on the 1:30 C. & O. train and will be met at the depot by his son, Mr. Hickman Ranson, and the pallbearers and friends and taken direct to the Mayville Cemetery and laid to rest beside the grave of his first wife, who will be remembered as the lovely Miss Bettie Baldwin, daughter of the late Col. W. W. Baldwin and wife of Anvergne Plantation.

Mr. Ranson, is survived by his second wife, who was Miss Mary Spillman, and two children, by his first wife, Mr. Hickman Ranson, of Hampton, Va., and Mrs. Harry Woodward, of Louisville.

Deceased was at one time a deacon in the Christian Church here. The brief funeral services at the grave this afternoon will be conducted by Dr. John Harbison, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Handsome in youth and manhood and one of nature's polished and noble gentlemen, his friends will long cherish happy memories of him.

"Quo Vadis." Marvelous Production at The Gem—Made in Rome, The Original Scenario of Great Story.

"Marvelous! wonderful and thrilling!" are the comments heard from the hundreds who saw this great movie spectacle at the Gem theater yesterday afternoon and evening.

The scenario is laid in the "Eternal City," Rome, and the Italian cast is superb. Nero, the cruel and crazy Roman Emperor and his court retainers, and the vast setting of this bloodiest of all human dramas, are shown in all its lurid horror and sublimity. The devouring of the Christians by a score of lions in the arena, and the bound Lydia on the back of a wild bull and the killing of the beast by Ursus, the gladiator, could not be more horrifying and realistically shown.

This marvelous Kleins Cines Photo drama, enjoyed an unprecedented run at the Astor Theater in New York and at McVicker's in Chicago, and the admission was $1.00.

Think of paying $1.00 to see a movie. But it's worth it.

It is the sensation of Europe and America.

Press comments:

"Superbly shown at the Astor—'Quo Vadis' superior to play."—New York Sun.

"Terrifying and inspiring—exquisitely religious—stupendous."—Chicago News.

"Of superlative merit—thrilling and spectacular."—Philadelphia Ledger.

At the Gem this afternoon and night. Last chance to see it. Admission 25c.

AGED MAN ENDS LIFE

Thomas Finn, aged about seventy-five years, died as a result of having taken a mixture of Paris green and whisky at the home of his brother, Martin Finn, proprietor of the Finn Hotel, Brooksville. He gave no reason for committing the rash deed other than he had been unable to sleep for a week or more. He was a bachelor and had lived in Brooksville many years.

THOUGHT TEDDY ROOSEVELT WAS IN TOWN.

No, it wasn't Col. Theodore Roosevelt who called at The Public Ledger office Saturday to get a Ledger, but we said, "Hello, Teddy!"

"No," the gent replied, "I'm not Teddy. I'm simply J. D. Rodgers, of Lansing, Mich., and I sell collars and supplies. I've been taken for Col. Roosevelt many times, however."

He certainly looked like the Boss Bull Moose, and said: "I was a strong Roosevelt man once. But never again."

REVIVAL SERVICES AT THIRD STREET M. E. CHURCH.

Last night Rev. G. W. Bunton of Covington, preached the first sermon in a series of the revival begun at the Third Street M. E. Church. His text was 1st Timothy, 1st chapter, 15th verse. Dr. Bunton is no stranger to Mayville people. The large auditorium was comfortably filled. Dr. Bunton held the closest attention of his hearers. At the close a great many held up their hands for prayer.

Prof. Trent the pianist, is excellent and the music is ably conducted by Mr. Richardson. The combination insures good music. The church is inspired and there will be a great meeting.

SOMETHING UNUSUAL ON THE RIVER.

The Tacoma landed at the local wharf this morning and had on board two wagons loaded with tobacco. Men who have been on the river front for fifty years say it is the first time in their recollection they ever saw tobacco brought on a boat in that way to Mayville. It was from up the river. Him roads was responsible for the shipment. Another argument for good roads.

C. & O. ISSUES BRIDGE BONDS.

New York.—With the announcement of an issue of $33,000,000 five per cent. five year notes by the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, the stock sagged abruptly during the first hour of the market, declining to 80 against 83 7/8 yesterday.

One provision issued prescribed that during the terms of these notes the company is setting aside $17,000,000 for improvements to property before for their dividends could be paid. Officials of the road said the earnings would be sufficiently large to cover additional charges.

The floating of the above bond issue indicates that the C. & O. is carrying out its plans to finance the bridge project. It will be noticed that it is stated that $17,000,000 is to be set aside for improvements and this is the estimated cost of the bridge and connecting line.

ALASKA AND SIBERIA.

We know very little about Alaska. We have neither inclination nor information, outside of our reference library, to tell our readers about the frostline and the moss and the reindeers and the mosquitoes and the hard, hard work. We believe, nevertheless, out of a plentiful stock of ignorance, that Alaska at its best is not vastly different from Siberia at its best, and that what Russians have done Americans may hope to do.

The Trans-Siberian Railroad is an actuality; the Alaska Railroad is a potentiality. From the Urals to the Pacific the one has made a prosperous province out of a penal settlement; has endowed it with prodigious wealth of agriculture, of industry, of mines, of fisheries, of a sturdy population more particularly. What may not the other accomplish, beginning, as it will, without the social handicaps, the hideous drawbacks, that made of Siberia a nightmare and a Nemesis?

Alaska may deserve the worst that is said for it or the best, and it does not really matter which. From any start it has a better chance than had Siberia in the days when Jules Verne could write Michael Strogoff and the story be true.—Louisville Herald.

EDUCATIONAL.

Robert Ascham, the old schoolmaster, said, "he hazardeth much who depends upon learning for his experience." This may be put alongside of the late John Bascom's expressive phrase "things learned by living." These expressions are in tune with the much-quoted and much-abused doctrine, "we learn by doing." We say it proudly and then turn our backs on it, and go to quarreling about textbooks, and naturally so. Textbooks are good things, but they are disgraced when empty and selfish minds go quarreling about them. There are two things subordinate to educational achievements and they are textbooks and "don't care teachers." They don't inspire a particle. They pull down rather.

In this connection, a statement from Supt. J. W. Bradner's report to the School Board the other night is of interest. Mr. Bradner stated that during the past month a series of questions has been put to pupils in the eighth grade, some of which are all important. The first question asked was, "Do you expect to be promoted at the end of the school year?" Second, "Do your grades warrant promotion? If not, how do you expect to be promoted?" "How much home study do you do?" There were about six other questions along this line and after the pupils answered them in writing Mr. Bradner took up each individual case with the teacher, and after that had a conference with the pupil, in regard to these questions, with special reference to the pupils who were near the failing point. This, it seems to us, is getting at the real root of the question of so many failures in our public schools. Here is an exemplification of the principle "we learn to do by living." It is bound to bring good results to our schools.—Ashland Independent.

BARE LEGGED BATHERS ALLOWED IN CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, O.—Bare legs will prevail among women bathers here next summer. Park Superintendent Alber advocates unbuttoned blouses for swimmers and has removed the ban on stockinged women at the bathing beaches. "The less clothes the better while bathing as long as bathers keep within the bounds of decency," says Alber.

HEAT AND LIGHT AND POWER BY WIRELESS!

Although electrical energy has become so commonplace that its use is regarded as an incident, it is within the memory of the most of us when its simplest applications were all curiosities. The engineer of the electric-lighting plant, modern thirty years ago, if he entered the power plant of today, would find it difficult to understand the use and operation of the numerous electrical devices found therein, says the editor of Power.

The strides that have been made in this branch of engineering have surpassed the wildest dreams of thirty years ago. On one occasion a professor of electricity, solemnly stated to his class that the trolley car would always require a trolley wire as a means of electrical transmission. Today street cars are successfully operated by means of storage batteries. The professor spoke according to the light of his time and could not see the developments destined for the future.

One of the greatest overhead charges against the electric lighting plant is the cost and maintenance of the transmission lines. Although, doubtless much thought has been devoted to the question of transmission-line elimination the problem has remained unsolved. Possibly the invention of wireless telegraphy has given inventors the key which will enable them to perfect a method of wireless electrical transmission.

The advance along this line is promising, for, according to reports, apparatus has been devised whereby electric lamps have been lighted at a distance from the generating apparatus without the aid of transmission lines.

What the success of this invention will mean is impossible to predict. With the first step taken in wireless transmission of electrical energy, it would seem plausible to predict that not only will our buildings be lighted by wireless electrical energy, but that they will be heated as well. In the same manner, commercial electrical energy could be transmitted for motor service.

It may be early to forecast what the forthcoming results of this new invention will be, but who would care to dispute that energy will soon be transmitted from the point to point without the aid of transmission lines?

JUST A LIGHT LUNCH.

They were on the subject of girls.
"Look here!" exclaimed McFarland. "Did you ever take a girl out to lunch when she felt a little faint?"
"Er—no," admitted Smith reluctantly.
"Well, take my advice and don't. One day I took Miss Jennie Westcott into a restaurant. At first she declined to eat anything, but then she said she believed she did feel a little faint."
"Did she take anything?"
"Did she take anything? She seized the menu, glanced over it, said she didn't feel very hungry and ordered—"
"Well, what did she order?"
"Oyster, bouillabaisse, lobster, cutlets, sweetbreads and peas, chicken, shrimp salad, biscuit glace, macaroons, coffee and creme de menthe. It cost me three dollars."
"Well, you ought to be glad," said Smith.
"Glad? What for?"
"Why, glad she wasn't hungry."

FREIGHT TRAIN CAUSE

Of Accident at South Ripley Costing Two Lives.

(Georgetown (Ohio) News-Democrat.)

Thomas Mangum called at the News-Democrat office, Friday, telling us of having been a passenger upon the C. & O. Train which struck the omnibus, killing Samuel White and Alonzo Williams at South Ripley, Thursday morning. Mr. Mangum said that during the several years he had been on the road he had never seen a sight equalling it. The train was running behind time and making a terrific speed. Being a newspaper man, he stated that he soon learned, when the train stopped that the cause for the accident was a freight train that was switching, and which made so much noise that it was impossible for the occupants of the omnibus to hear the approaching train.

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS. is what women are called who all over this broad land make their annual collections of roots and herbs, and rely upon recipes which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these root-pots, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.

"They're too smart for me up there, I don't feel at home."
"Lincoln and Douglas traveled the state in a buggy together. Both spoke at Paris, Ill., one day and I heard them. I remember it well. Douglas had then been talked of as a candidate for President, Lincoln had not. Douglas was a small man and he wore one of those long linen dusters, then in fashion; the duster touched his shoe tops. When Lincoln arose to speak it was hot and dusty and everybody was tired.
"You have heard people talk of Douglas for President," he said. "He will never be President, however, and I'll tell you why. The people of the United States will never elect a man President who wears a linen duster that trails the ground. His coat tail is too long."
"This caused a great laugh and put every one in a good humor."

Overwhelming Verdict

A few months ago, a man in no way connected with the making of Postum or the marketing of coffee, wrote to quite a number of physicians all over the country asking their unbiased testimony in the case of POSTUM vs. COFFEE.

The following excerpts from their letters constitute an overwhelming verdict

In Favor of Postum

"I have discarded coffee altogether in my family, and instead use Postum which we find makes a rich, delicious drink, without any of the deleterious effects attendant on the continuous use of coffee."

"Our family have been users of Postum for a long time. We were very liberal coffee drinkers, but were conscious that coffee was harming us—our nervous system, digestion and heart action—so we quit the coffee and began using Postum. Now we relish it far more than we did coffee, and are all relieved of the old coffee troubles. As a physician I have induced several families to quit coffee and use Postum."

"Postum—when it is desirable to leave off coffee on account of over-stimulation or gastric disturbances."

"Postum has been used in my family nearly ever since it was placed on the market, and I recommend it to my patients. It is a nourishing drink. A great many families are giving their children Postum in place of coffee with best of results."

"I have used Postum in my family for years with the most satisfactory result, so much so that we have practically abolished coffee, and with it the coffee headaches, nervousness, and lying awake the best part of the night."

"I drink Postum every morning, and recommend it to my friends who have nerves and indigestion."

"No more coffee for me. I am using Instant Postum and advise my patients to do likewise. I prefer it to the best coffee, and have no more sour stomach attacks as I used to."

"For years I have been using Postum in the family and advocating it for my patients. I consider it to be exactly what its manufacturers claim for it. Postum is excellent in place of coffee where the latter is contraindicated. The food value of Postum plays an important part when compared with coffee."

"Have had many cases that could not drink coffee on account of its reflex action on the heart. Postum always supplies the place of coffee without the bad effects."

"I have used Postum for the past eight years in place of coffee. Before that I was troubled with frequent bilious headaches due to excessive use of coffee, and was then advised to use Postum. Since that time I have not had a single attack, which effect I attribute entirely to Postum. I frequently recommend it to others who experience equally gratifying results."

"Hardly a week goes by that I do not advise some patient with an irritable, acid stomach and nervous heart to stop at once the use of all coffee and take up the use of Postum, and always with good results."

"I am satisfied that coffee is responsible in a great degree for the premature breakdown of our active men and women. They suffer from caffeine poisoning. Of the truth of this there is not the shadow of a doubt. Our common sense tells us that the daily swallowing of caffeine—overstimulating the heart and brain—will be followed by nervous depression, and finally by more or less disastrous results. I believe if people in general would use Postum as a beverage in place of coffee and tea their mental and physical condition would be much improved."

In the light of such testimony it would seem the part of wisdom to stop coffee and use Postum.

Postum is a genuine food-drink, made of whole wheat and a small percent of molasses. Contains the nutritious values of the grain, but is pure and absolutely free from the coffee drug, caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled to bring out its fine flavor. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble form. A teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water—with sugar and cream added—makes a delightful beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins. The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

GEOGRAPHY OF HARD LUCK

Against a post there leaned his head
A callow youth, who sighed and said:
"Oingo d'you know of any trick
To end a fellow's sufferings quick?"
You ask me Wye, and don't see through?
My cause for Macon this ad!
A tis this: "I loved a maiden Nice, sir,
As ever charmed a young man's Isor;
I pressed my suit with Zealand found
My hopes not wholly without ground.
Obe assured life seemed to Brighton,
And Dover no skies seemed to lighten.
"I Ava Baagor—count, you see,
And scatter money rather free;
I thought that wealth and generous deeds
Unto a maids affections Leeds.
And it cost me many a golden Guinea
When Marietta Philpotts—a
With me, and made me pay the dues—
How little for her smile Toulouse!
"Yes, I was Avon a nice time,
Thinking it nothing of a crime
To drive upon the summer Rhodes,
Or take a Hackensack the woods
For springtime Posies. Happy Tours!
But yet I want no more Amours.
"One night I thought I'd Colonay
That she should name the wedding day;
Then did she Bristol up and said:
"The Dayton which I am to wed
With Mr. Squigge is Sunday night;
I'm Malta blame for your sad plight."
"I strove my senses to impael,
My words could find no English Channel,
So I was forced to bolton run,
I couldn't even make a pun.
"I felt like those whose luck declines
Like Captain of some Appenines
Who drops his smile, is sour and sasse
When not a single Tailleussee.
"My tears, I don't expect to dry 'em—
I'm Tyred of living, now, Yes, Siam."

UP TO LAWYERS

Senator Lewis, of Illinois, Declares Law
Must Get Nearer Citizen.

Kansas City, Mo.—The simplification of court procedure and the creation of a general popular confidence in the judiciary must come largely through the American lawyer, was the opinion of Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, here at the annual banquet of the Kansas City Bar Association.

"The Government," Senator Lewis said, "was nearer to civil revolution a year ago than it ever was since the Civil War. The belief prevailed that the Government through the thing called law, had licensed the commercial intruder and legalized the personal oppressor."

"The Presidents of the United States, Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson each the representative of his party, have declared that the great wrongs done the country were through the law."

"Our duty is to awaken to modern things; to move nearer the citizen for whom the law is created and who through the author of the law in theory, is the victim of its execution; to abandon ancient forms that wars against common sense and decline to carry along heavy precedent. Let the law be adjusted to the new temperament of a new civilization."

SPRINGTIME SCENE IN THE "PENNYRILE"

Frankfort.—A beautiful painting of a typical wood scene in "the Pennyrile" in the early spring has been placed in the rooms of the State Historical Society by Mrs. J. Rogers Beauchamp, of Edaouton. Mrs. Beauchamp painted the scene from nature in the vicinity of Edaouton, showing the trees just budding into leaf and disclosing a vista through the wood along a silvery water course, with the Metcalfe County hills

in the distance.

GOVERNOR'S SIGNATURE

Goes To New Insurance Bill Despite Threat of Companies.

Frankfort, Ky., March 7.—Governor McCreary today signed the Green-Gleason fire insurance bill. The bill was in the hands of Governor McCreary only a few hours until he had put his signature to it, making it a law. The measure is very objectionable to the fire insurance companies.

The act extends the powers of the State Insurance Rating Board so that it may enforce its schedule of fire insurance rates. It increases the tax on premiums for the support of the board from one-half to one per cent, and permits the board to employ a hydraulic and electrical engineer and as many others as it sees fit to do within the income of slightly under $50,000, estimated.

FARMERS ARE NOT THROUGH STRIPPING TOBACCO.

(Mt. Oliver Tribune.)
It may appear strange, but is never theless the fact, that quite a number of farmers have not yet finished stripping their tobacco. As the warehouses will soon close, it would be well for both seller and buyer to get the remaining tobacco into market. Only a few days will elapse when the spring work will demand all the attention of farmers, and no time should be lost from now on to get their tobacco into market. It rarely ever pays to hold a crop over.

IT'S TRUE

Mother has had her picture taken rather often than father has—but even she hasn't in two years and THAT picture will never do to send to Aunt Jane.

She wears her hair so much more becoming now—and anyway, its high time there was another picture for the family collection.

WHY 7,000 DRUGGISTS

Guarantee and Recommend Vinol.

If any one should know the value of a medicine it is the retail druggist who sells it.

Therefore, when over seven thousand of the best retail druggists in the country recommend Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, as the greatest tonic reconstructer and strength creator they have ever sold, it must indicate the value of Vinol.

We could publish columns of such testimony as the following:
J. C. Brady, druggist of Fall River, Mass., says: "In cases where cod liver oil, emulsions and other tonics fail, Vinol will heal, strengthen and cure."
C. A. Potterfield, druggist of Charleston, W. Va., says: "It is a pleasure to sell Vinol as it gives such universal satisfaction."

Hunter & McGehee, druggists, of Jackson, Miss., say: "We have great confidence in the strength creating and curative value of Vinol."
We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person or any person suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. J. C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Dr. John Barbour Delivers a Delightful Talk On "The Women of Shakespeare."

One of the most delightful meetings of the Women's Club was that of last Friday when a large audience listened with rapt attention to Dr. Barbour's address on "The Women of Shakespeare." These characters created by the immortal pen of the great poet we have always known and admired in a way, but they assumed proportions of beauty and worth under the skilled word painting of the speaker that invested them with a wonderful newness and humaneness. He most effectively brought out the filial devotion of Cordelia in spite of injustice, the winsome charm of Rosalind, the nobility and cleverness of Portia. From these and other heroines of Shakespeare strong moral lessons were taught for the encouragement and inspiration of the women of today. Dr. Barbour paid a high tribute to woman when he said "Shakespeare's greatness was transmitted by his mother, Mary Arden, for his father was a worthless ne'er-do-well." The lecture was most enthusiastically received.

The club decided to invite Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart to speak here the 20th. The chairman's tea followed the meeting and with the exchange of friendly greetings and interchange of thought upon matters of mutual interest the time was pleasantly passed.

The pretty appointments of the table, the graciousness of the hostess, Mrs. John Barbour and Misses Jessie Yancey and Lottie Berry with their assistants, Misses Elizabeth Barbour, Harriet Cochran and Lydia Richeson, made the occasion most enjoyable.

Farmers

Have you ever tried our way of borrowing money to pay for a farm?

You, of course, know that most farms are sold for one-third cash and the balance of the payment is represented by lien notes due in one and two years. You also know that there are times when it is impossible to pay these notes when they become due.

Our specialty is lending money on good farms for LONG PERIODS. Wouldn't you rather have five years to pay the balance than two years? Any one expecting to buy farm this March will do well to come in and consult us about getting the money.
